HOW THE SCHOOL RALLY WILL HELP

Awakens New Enthusiasm In the Children's Condition.

IT MAKES THEM ALL THINK.

As an Old Farmer Said, "I Believe This Is the Most Important Lot of Young Stock That's Ever Been Exhibited. Did the Investment Pay?"

A little over a year ago a man who saw possibilities in the pleasures and enthusiasm of child life decided to invest some money. He had seen much of the world, but determined to try his experiment in his old boyhood home county of Bullitt. He offered the county school officials the dividends from a thousand dollar L. and N. bond, to be used as they saw fit. These officials decided upon an all-day rally and picnic, with many and varied contests, so that every child in the county might compete.

During the most perfect October weather Shepherdsville had her first school rally. Early that morning the children began to pour into town by rail, in buggies and surreys, in big farm wagons and on wide spread hay frames, on horseback and muleback, and their friends and relatives came too. By 10 o'clock, the time set for the parade, the town was alive with boys and girls. The staid farmers that braced the courthouse fence wore long badges hanging from the lapels of their coats, badges that read "TRUSTEE" or "FRIEND OF THE SCHOOLS."

No one seemed inclined to talk about crops or politics. With a full brass band from Louisville heading the column, 700 youngsters marched, danced and pranced through the old town. It was a parade of exquisite beauty because of the joy that beamed and sparkled in childish faces; it was a parade of grave importance because of the future citizenship that was there. The long line was broken here and there by a gayly be-decked wagon overflowing with smiling, giggling, rosy faced girls and boys.

The contests at the fair grounds were begun as soon as the parade disbanded. These contests were divided into eight sections, so that children of about the same age might enter. There were spelling matches, arithmetic matches, story telling matches, in progress almost continuously. There were potato races, foot races, three legged races, horse races, hitching up races, races for each and every one. Now and then the program would be interrupted by a marching column with its cheer leader. The column would yell itself hoarse and retire amid the applause of the grand stand. Over in the floral hall was a splendid display of needlework, good things to eat and handwork of all kinds. All of this fun and enthusiasm out in the glad mellow sunshine of a perfect autumn day!

Was the investment a good one? This might be answered by a farmer's answer to the question, "Well, what do you think of it?"

The old man's face wrinkled into a smile that began in the corners of his eyes and gradually spread to his big mouth before he said quietly: "I have been lookin' at fine stock in this here fair grounds for years, an' I've thought a lot about feedin' an' han'lin' stock, but"—he hesitated a moment, waved his hand out toward a big group of children intent upon some contest and continued—"I believe this here is the most important lot of young stock that's ever been exhibited, an' I'm goin' to think more about han'lin' 'em after this."

FALL-HEADED CLUB MEETS.

that they have elected a new president down in Cuba without starting a revolution. I thought at one time the police force of Key West would have to be sent over to keep the peace, but Mario Menocal seems to have cleaned up things in Cuba like Wilson did in the United States."

Col. Gus Breathitt said he didn't want to butt in, but would like to know if M. J. was a man or a woman? "Gus Breathitt said he didn't want to butt in, but would like to know if M. J. was a man or a woman?"

President Wilson is close, calling attention to the fact that we were just out of a national election in which 35,000,000 men and some women voted for presidential electors. The result was contributed to largely by the bald-headed men of the country who hold the balance of power and should occupy the front row in politics just as they do in any other vaudeville show, for politics at present is a mere stage upon which the actors strut across a few times, their little piece, let the trained elephant step over them, ride a stick horse or bull moose or donkey and get out of the way for the next act.

After a resolution calling upon President Wilson to put one or more bald-headed men in his cabinet, the club adjourned.

Now Comes the Golf Faker.

A ball played by a golfer at Weston super-Mare struck a skylark, so we read, and cut the bird's head off. You should hear us tell our story of the golf ball which stuck in a bird's beak in the middle of its flight. The bird flew off with the ball to its nest. Fortunately for the player, the bird had made its nest in the next hole.—London Globe.

On Pennsylvania Farm.
Here is one of the stories, says the Americus Greeting, from the old man's row in front of the barber shop: One man said back in Pennsylvania they farmed the land where the hills were so steep that when they planted potatoes one man had to hold them in a furrow while another man covered them up. When they dug them in the fall they were simply allowed to roll to the bottom of the hill before any attempt was made to pick them up.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

What Puzzled Him.
"What are you puzzling about?" "I'm writing a sketch for vaudeville on the current political situation." "Well, you ought to have plenty of good stuff to put in." "That isn't what puzzles me. I've got so much good stuff I don't know what to leave out."
